

Love Story

Our love story began in 2022 when I first proposed to Muqadas, but it wasn't until 22 months later in 2024 that she finally walked into my life and made it shine. My name is Nadeem Ahmad, a loyal and mature programmer who had been waiting for that special someone to come my way.

Muqadas Habib is intelligent, creative, and beautiful, qualities that instantly drew me in when we first met. Our initial impression of each other was one of classmate, a connection that would blossom into something truly special.

I'll always remember our early days, when we spent hours leaning in class, and I was captivated by her intelligence and creativity as she confidently answered our teachers' questions. We'll both shared a love for cooking, which brought us even closer together as we'll created meals filled with love and laughter.

Together, we faced challenges and supported each other through college, always giving each other the encouragement and love needed to push forward. And when the time was right, I knew I wanted to spend the rest of my life with her. The moment came after our second semester final exam when she was about to leave for another city, and I took the leap and proposed. It was the turning point and a moment of pure love and joy of my life.

Our hopes and dreams for the future are simple yet profound: to create a loving home filled with endless love and unwavering support for each other. Muqadas is the only girl I have ever loved, and I will continue to love her until my last breath.

To our wedding guests, we wish to share our heartfelt message of blessings and gratitude for being a part of our love story. Thank you for joining us on this incredible journey filled with love, laughter, and endless happiness.

Thank you my dear Muqadas.
